A Message from the Hackley School:

Hackley School is a K-12 co-educational independent school located in Tarrytown, New York. The words, “Enter Here to Be and Find a Friend”, are engraved over one of the main entrances to the school. This unofficial motto is integral to Hackley’s educational mission, in which we desire to learn about and embrace our differences and perspectives, encourage healthy debate, and foster an atmosphere of mutual respect. As our Headmaster, Walter Johnson, states, “Diversity is fundamental to our understanding of what good education is and one of the hallmarks of our community’s culture.”

We are privileged and honored to host the 2010 DAIS Conference on Saturday, May 15th. This is the first time that DAIS will be held at a school in Westchester County. Please do not let our location in the “burbs” deter your attendance to this all-important conference! (We are just minutes away from last year’s conference location.) Hackley is accessible from the major highways in Westchester County and is 1 mile from the Tarrytown Metro-North train station. We will be providing shuttle-bus transportation during peak arrival and departure times on the day of the event.

Our enthusiastic students and devoted faculty look forward to welcoming you to our community and to the DAIS conference.
